

Pavlos Kontos (PhD., UCL, Louvain 1995) is an Associate Professor in the Department of Philosophy at the University of Patras (Greece) and, during the Spring Semester 2013, a Visiting Associate Professor in the Department of Philosophy at Chapel Hill University (North Carolina). His interests are in Aristotle's Ethics, contemporary interpretations of Aristotle's ethics and phenomenology.

Author of Aristotle's Moral Realism Reconsidered, Routledge, New York - London, 2011; (ed.) Kant: Making Reason Intuitive, Palgrave, Hampshire, 2006; (ed.) Gadamer et les Grecs, Vrin, Paris, 2005; L'action morale chez Aristote., PUF, Paris, 2002; D'une phénoménologie de la perception chez Heidegger, Phaenomenologica 137, Kluwer, Dordrecht, 1996.